

Fig. 4. Mean within-category and between-category correlations (\pm SE) between patterns of response across all subjects for all ventral temporal object-selective cortex (red and dark blue) and for ventral temporal cortex excluding the cortex that responded maximally to either of two categories being compared (orange and light blue). The SE of within-category correlations after excluding maximally responsive cortex was based on the mean correlation across 14 pairwise comparisons for each subject.